"The Grand Jury indicted Robert W. Buchanan on June 9, 1892," said Brooke, "charging him with murder in the first degree on the testimony of Dr. B. P. Loomis, Dr. C. H. Doremus, Dra. McIntyre and Watsen, Richard W. Macomber and Saran B. Chilos. There were two counts.

"The first charged him with administering to his wife five grains of morphine. The second charged him with producing her death by administering to her a dose or poison unknown to the Grand Jury. The District-Attorney has elected that you shall decide on the second count. The first is abandened.

After referring to Dr. Buchanan's coming to America, his studies and graduation in medicine, first marriage and subsequent divorce, Ar. Brooke continued:

"Then, through Capt. Doria, he became scouragean, in Newark, N. J. She seems not to be the been conspicuous in her infamy. Her name was not on the lips of the people, includ her had kept a disorderly house tourseen years and had accumulated a competency.

Warsen Brown says that if Warden Durston desires he will remain with him for the purpose of aiding him to become tamiliar with the affairs of the prison. This would probably take a few days.

Principal Keeper James Connaughton will continue in that position under Warden Durstor, and br. Irvine expects to remain as prison physician. Mr. Conhaughton has been connected with Sing Sing Pilson for nearly
